

My name is Vova, I still go to kindergarten.

I'm 5 years old. I go to football and I really like it. I know that fair play is the rule of fair play in football and other sports. I know that I need to play honestly and such a game is appreciated.

I always play fair, so everyone loves and respects me. I know that fair play was born in 1992.

I'm a child but I understand that sport teaches me to be honest and be in harmony with myself. Because if I cannot be calm and honest in the game, then I cannot become a real and good football player. My teachers me to be kindness to each other and it's rightly so. I like to watch football, but I don't like it when famous football players don't play fair or cannot control themselves. I think that sports educates people, if you really love it. But a lot of footballers play because of the big salaries and I think they really don't like their job.

As for me, participation in fair play is a responsible attitude towards others in sports. I think, that I'm already a part of fair play, because I play very honestly. And I'm trying to teach my little brother and a cat.

In the future I want to become a football player. And I will try to be the best.

With love, Vova Streltsov, 5 years.
